

Some more interesting web resources:

Noodletools Intelligent academic web searching:

THIS IS AN EXCELLENT RESOURCE

<http://www.noodletools.com/debbie/literacies/information/5locate/adviceengine.html>

multiple search engines listed in order of need when studying a topic.

Scootle:

<http://www.scootle.edu.au/ec/p/home>

Learning federation 'objects' (mostly flash animations, and mostly for P-7)

Link to register with scootle learning federation objects:

<http://www.scootle.edu.au/ec/register.action?key=mtxRuAOM>

Students access the objects through pins that are created when you set up a learning path.

To find out how to set up a learning path read the user's guide from the SCOOTLE site:

http://www.scootle.edu.au/pages/user_guide/scootle_userGuide_aug_09.pdf

Teaching and Learning Exchange (parents portal):

As a private school we don't have full access to this site but you can log on as a parent

<http://www.tale.edu.au/tale/live/parents/>

Using Edublogs to enhance your teaching:

<http://edublogs.org/10-ways-to-use-your-edublog-to-teach/>

Common craft

<http://www.commoncraft.com/>

3-minute video explanations in plain English (using basic pencil and paper animation)

This is an excellent site for ideas on creating simple stop-motion videos as class projects.

Zdsoft: Screen capture software trial download:

Capture anything you play on the screen and save it as a video (ie: UTube, practical demonstrations, DVD clips, etc...)

<http://www.zdsoft.com/downloads.html>

This trial will work for 30 days and put a water mark in the top left of the screen. If enough staff find that it is useful we could get a site licence.